Wales Air Ambulance has installed an automatic, electrically operated, multi-leaf sliding folding Osprey hangar door to their new purpose-built helicopter hangar at Llanelli, Carmarthenshire.

The Challenge

Wales Air Ambulance service manager, Mark Winter said, "When we receive an emergency call-out, the hangar doors must open quickly so the helicopter can be airborne with the minimum delay. Security is also an issue as the new hangar can house two expensive helicopters as well as state-of-the-art medical equipment."

Speed of Operation

The Osprey multi-leaf sliding folding hangar door opens automatically on the single push of a button. The full 15 metre width opening is achieved in approximately 30 seconds.

Space Saving

The Osprey door only folds as it reaches the sides, ultimately folding into a footprint no more than 1m² behind each jamb. This leaves the full 15 metre wide by 5.7 metre high opening completely clear so helicopters can be parked right up to the door without the risk of obstructing the doors during operation or damaging the aircraft.

Safety Factors

For reasons of safety, the doors can only be closed by a continuous push of the close button. Integral security design features include automatic locking when closed and anti-lift top tracks.
