Esavian Doors for DC Aviation Hangars 1 & 2 at Dubai South, Al Maktoum International Airport

DC Aviation Al Futtaim (DCAF) is a business jet operator which offer services in Charter, FBO, Maintenance and Aircraft Management. In 2013 Jewers Doors designed, supplied and installed their Esavian Type 126 sliding hangar doors for the newly built 5,700 sqm executive jet hangar at Dubai South – Al Maktoum International Airport (DWC). The hangar, which can accommodate aircraft up to Boeing 757's, includes doors 62 metres wide by 13.5 metres high with a tailgate opening that increases the height to 16 metres. At the time it was the only integrated Hangar and VIP lounge facility in Dubai South.

In 2017 as part of their expansion plans, DC Aviation commissioned a 2nd hangar to be built. The 6,800 sqm hangar more than doubled their hangar capacity and enabled DCAF to significantly increase the number and size of aircraft they could accommodate. The Esavian Type 126 sliding hangar doors for the second hangar are of similar design and configuration as the sliding doors supplied on the first hangar and measure 55.5 metres wide by 13.5 metres high with a centrally located tailgate opening that increases the height to 16.7 metres.

Both sets of doors are electrically operated and are configured as six individually operated door leaves which travel on three bottom tracks. The door leaves from the second hangar have been designed so that they can travel into Hangar 1 which allow for a full clear opening for Hangar 2. Each set of doors are complete with 3 personnel doors and specially designed, twin roller shutter door tailgates. Each door is fitted with proximity sensors and anti-collision sensors on each of the leading door leaf edges to allow accurate movement to the closed position.

Ben Pritchard, Regional Sales Manager at Jewers Doors Ltd (Dubai Branch) said “repeat orders for our Esavian doors, such as this for DC Aviation, are always welcome as a definitive statement of customer satisfaction. We were chosen for this project by the Al Futtaim Group Real Estate due to our unrivalled experience in the UAE.
